ideal continually outruns it, and the magazine as swiftly follows after. To-day St. Nicholas stands THE SUN has fairly carned the hearty hatred of rascals, frauds and humbugs of all sorts and sizes. It hopes to derve that haired not less in the year 1870, than in 1878, 1877, or any year gone by. THE SUN will continue to shine on the wicked with unmitigated brightness.
While the lessons of the past should be constantly kept before the people, The Sux does not propose to make itself in 1879 a magazine of ancient history. It is printed for the men and women of to-day, whose concern is chiefly with the affairs of to-day. It has both the disposition and the ability to afford its readers the promptest, fullest and most accurate intelligence of whatever in the wide world is are comple, drawing from already favorite worth attention. To this end the resources belonging to well-established prosperity will be liberally employed.

The present disjointed condition of parties in this country, and the uncertainty of the future, lend an extraordinary significance to the events of the coming year. The discussions of the press, the debates and acts of Congress and the mayness of the lend of the press, the debates and acts of the girls, a continued tale, Congress, and the movement of the leaders in every section of the Republic will have a direct bearing on the Presidential election of 1880—an event which must be regarded with most anxious interest by every pariotic American and a fresh serial by Susan Coolidge, entitled "Eyebright," with plenty of pictures, To these elements of inverest may be added the probability that the Democrats will con- will also be a continued fairy-tale called rol both houses of Congress, the increasing exact situation in each of its varying phases, and to expound, according to its well-known methods, the principles that should guide us through the labyrinth will be an important part of The Sun's work for 1879.
